Our Vision:

We see a future in which the arts play a major role in the overall development of Beaverton as a “destination community.”

We see a future in which the arts have become a living forum through which the various cultures in our community come together in mutual celebration of their unique gifts and in appreciation of their mutually held values. Through the arts, our once fragmented community has found a way to come together in common cause.

We see a future in which the support of education in the arts has become a deeply held community value, and learners of all ages have access to art programs, activities, and scholarships that enhance the meaning in their lives and increase their potential as caring and responsible citizens.

We see a future in which the artistic community thrives. Art galleries and small theatres, once almost impossible to find, are now commonplace in the city. Several important design and architectural firms have relocated to our rapidly growing community core. A wide variety of dance and musical events take place each month in spaces that were incorporated into the design of our new Cultural Arts Center. In the summer there is an entire community literally “dancing in the streets.”

We see a future in which the commercial interests in the city have become deeply committed to developing the city core as a cultural and business locale. They are also highly supportive of the role the Arts must play in this development. They understand how the arts provide a focus and common ground for the community as a whole. Most of all, these commercial interests recognize that it is both right and profitable to take on a major share of the responsibility of developing a municipal environment that is vibrant, inclusive, and beautiful.

We Value:

Community – We believe that our purpose is to build a culturally rich community by promoting the development, appreciation, and celebration of the arts.

Diversity – We believe that the arts serve as a common meeting ground that can be a key force in building a healthy, inclusive, and vibrant community.

Art and Artistry – We believe that a community’s commitment to the arts stands as one of the clearest expressions of its cultural values and aspirations.

Education – We believe in life-long education in the arts and are committed to increasing both access and opportunity for every individual in our community.

Excellence – We believe in professionalism and strive for the highest quality in all that we do on behalf of our community.

Goals:

1. To contribute significantly to the quality of life in Beaverton by presenting and promoting artistically excellent cultural programs which celebrate community values and help connect residents to their heritage.
2. To foster access for our youth to high quality arts programs in our schools and community.
3. To nurture the professional development of local, visual and performing artists and arts organizations.
4. To insure adequate financial resources, staffing and volunteers to meet Commission goals.
